"JOAN THE WOMAN" SETS

MARK FOR FILM PLOTS.

The question of whether or not the public wants to get high or low class motion picture films seems to have been pretty definitely decided by the reception the New York public has given "Joan the Woman," the wonderful picture in which Jesse L.
Lasky is presenting Geraldine Farrar at the Forty-fourth Street Theatre.

Prior to the production of this picture many of the wisecracks in the film business said that the picture might prove to be over the heads of the public and that a picture on a lower scale would be surer of success.

However, day after day, many of the questions that had been asked began to be answered by the results at the theatre box office. It did not take long for the young folks of the city to realize that love was just as wonderful back in the days of Joan of Arc as it is today, and although most of us remember Joan merely as a woman in steel armor, the makers of this picture read her career enough to find that she had the same kind of heart that beats in every young girl's bosom today, and that, although she sacrificed this love for greater love of her country, there was enough to her romance to make as pretty a motion picture story as has ever been told.

Then, too, the wonderful battle scene in the picture proved to be just as spectacular as anything that has ever been done on the screen, and a whole lot more real than most picture scenes.

Added to this was the pageantry that pleased every eye, carried out as it proved to be to the last detail.
One has but to study the pageantry of the picture to have a perfectly clear idea of how the peoples of those days lived, loved, fought and died.
And, in addition to this, "Joan the Woman" proved to be one of the best history teachers that New York ever saw, with the result that those who were not interested by any of the other many angles took a deep interest in the historical side of the picture with the result that it is now regarded as one of the most assured.

AMUSEMENTS

NORMA TALMADGE IN "POPPY"

Norma Talmadge, the popular Selznick-Pictures star, will be seen on the screen of the Isis Theatre tomorrow in her latest feature photo-drama, "Poppy." This has been adapted from the play by Ben Teal and John P. Ritter, which was taken from Cynthia Stockley's novel. The story is intensely dramatic throughout, dealing with the life of a young girl who graduates from drudgery to refinement.

Miss Talmadge plays the part of Poppy Destin, whose life is moulded by three men, Luce Abinger the unscrupulous, Dr. Bramhan the generous, and Evelyn Carson the lover.
These persons have become known as "the three worst men in South Africa," on account of their adventures with women, but two of them prove that they are entitled to less sinister description. Through them the unique situation arises of a young woman married to a man without knowing it while the man she loves and who loves her believes his one meeting with her was only a dream. The unraveling of this original plot is one of the most fascinating of the screen stories of the year.

The director of "Poppy" was Edward Jose, who knows the South African country where the scenes transpire, having been for many years a resident of that fascinating country.

Consequently there is a wealth of detail and color in the incidents which make the general production absolutely true to life and dramatically convincing.

motion picture successes that has ever been turned out.

The rest of the country has been hearing so much about this wonderful picture that it is being anxiously waited for in every state of the union, and when the last dollar to be made by the producers is counted up, the results are expected to prove overwhelmingly that the motion picture public is not looking for the tawdry and worthless, but wants to get the finest there is.

WHEN TWINS WED TWINS
ROSES TO IDENTIFY BRIDES

Here are Leland Tabler, Loran Tabler, Mrs. Leland Tabler nee Moore) and Mrs. Loran Tabler (nee Moore), but—we can't tell which is which, reading either from left to right or right to left, so take your choice.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 31.—When twins wed twins! In this case it was a wedding of the roses. He pinned a rose on her, and HE pinned a rose on HER, as identification tags. One rose was red, the other white.

Leland and Loran Tabler, twin brothers, of Kansas City, led Alice and Gertrude Moore, twin sisters of Adrian, Mo., to the altar in a double ceremony.

Both brides were dressed exactly alike, both bridegrooms the same.
The bridesmaids and best men could not tell which was their bride and bridegroom.

How did each bridegroom tell which was his bride?

He kept tight hold of her arm during the ceremony, and when it was over, before he let go, he pinned a rose on her corsage. Leland pinned a red rose on his bride, Loran a white on his.

The minister, Rev. Charles Coombs, of First Christian church, the attendants, the guests and even the bridegrooms themselves wondered how the tangle could be straightened out if the brides, just to be mischievous, exchanged roses.
